

Eisele's Honey

For over 30 years

Eisele's Honey is a small, family owned business dedicated to providing the consumer with the highest quality honey. Eisele's Honey was started in 1981 in the country side of Westfield, Indiana by Tom Eisele. Tom started bee keeping as a hobby. Soon the hobby turned into a labor of love that included maintaining over 2000 registered hives.

At Eisele's we use only 100% U.S. Domestic honey harvested by bee keepers located in the Midwest. Much of our honey is collected from the countryside of Central Indiana near our original home of Westfield, Indiana.

Eisele's bottles two varieties of honey. First is our hugely popular Raw Honey. It's opaque with an exquisite taste and aroma, and it's loaded with nutrients! Raw honey is straight from the hive. It has not been heated or filtered. We stay out of the way and let Mother Nature and the bees shine, leaving it the way nature intended. By skipping the heating process, raw honey begins to crystalize, creating a creamy thick honey that is perfect for spreading on toast, or eating right off the spoon.

The second variety is our All Natural Pure Honey. It is an amber colored honey that flows freely out of the bottle. It's the same honey as our Raw Honey, only it's been gently heated to keep it in a liquid form. It's great for cooking or adding to a hot beverage.

No Other Steps

Most honeys which have not been either stored at or heated to high temperatures will granulate. Filtration and straining of minute particles of pollen has a tendency to retard granulation. Thus honeys which remain liquid after the arrival of cool weather have generally been subjected to some or all of these artificial processes. EISELE'S RAW HONEY is guaranteed to have never been subjected to temperatures higher than those found naturally in the hive. EISELE'S RAW HONEY is guaranteed to have never been filtered or even strained in any way. This is the only way to be assured that EISELE'S RAW HONEY contains all the elements in their purest form just as in the hive. EISELE'S RAW HONEY will probably granulate but can still be used in the same way as liquid honey with the added advantage that it retains all its natural elements.
